This is a very important apps which will remove your data risk from your itunes account when you add your PCHand iTransfer. Also, you can use it for more with a little modification, download a lot of data during recovery.Q: SQL Insert - Error I am using the following insert statement, but every time I run it I get the following error: Database Error: Violation of UNIQUE KEY constraint 'unique_key_name'. Cannot insert duplicate key in object 'dbname'. The duplicate key value is (valuehere). This is the code: $sql = "INSERT INTO users (userid, firstname, surname, username, password, email, groupID, pre_registered) VALUES (?,?,?,?,?,?,?)"; $stmt = $mysqli->prepare($sql); $stmt->bind_param("sssssssss", $id, $firstname, $surname, $username, $pwd, $email, $groupid, $pre_registered); $stmt->execute(); $stmt->close(); This is a pre-made function that I am using, I'm not sure what I'm doing wrong, what's causing the error, I did check that my database is correct, I did not change any of the values, the function is working perfectly on a different project. A: You must bound the inserted variables (to avoid duplicate key errors) and should take care to check if the columns already exist: $sql = "INSERT INTO users (userid, firstname, surname, username, password, email, groupID, pre_registered) VALUES (?,?,?,?,?,?,?)"; $stmt = $mysqli->prepare($sql); $stmt->bind_param("sssssssss", $id, $firstname, $surname, $username, $pwd, $email, $groupid, $pre_registered); $stmt->execute(); And to ensure the columns are unique: $sql = "INSERT INTO users (userid, firstname, surname, username, password, email, groupID, pre_registered) SELECT 'unique_user',?,?,?,?,?,?,?,
